PRESENT

The 3rd series of Tarzan—first time in Bombay.

"THE RETURN OF TARZAN"

The latest of the Edgar Rice Burroughs' stories of the mighty ape-man has been made into screen lore by Numa Pictures Corporation.

The Publishers of the books cannot keep editions in stock vast enough to meet the demand. There is no need to blaze Tarzan in electrics that advertising has been done. Tarzan's selling worth is gold-pure-unalloyed.

"THE RETURN OF TARZAN"

The gayety of Parisian society, the dizzy whirl of that city's famous underworld, the drama of sun frought Algerian deserts, the conflict of men of might aboard a huge ocean-liner, the savagery, mystery and thrilling romance of the African jungle, all mingled into the playground of this story.

"THE RETURN OF TARZAN"

A cast of recognized players headed by Gene Pollar includes Walter Miller, Karla Schramm, Armond Cortez, George Romain, Estelle Taylor, Donna Ramivez, Peggy Hannon, many jungle actors.

The Direction by Harry Revier and supervision by George M. Merrick, combine the artistic, technical and dramatic judgment of these well-known masters of their craft.

John K. Holbrook and James C. Hutchinson the camera-staff have contributed distinctive photographic effects as their share.

"The Return of Tarzan" by virtue of its story vogue, remarkable production, selected cast superb direction and notable photography is the greatest attraction in screen circles to-day.

LAST SLAVE MARKET.

THE HOLY CITY OF WAZZAN.

The open slave market in the Holy City of Wazzan, Morocco, which was recently occupied by the French, is reputed to the last of its kind in the world, according to a French officer who arrived in London in mail week from Fez.

The slaves are brought to Wazzan by caravan from parts of the country still unexplored. The market is held annually during the pilgirmage season, when pious Moslems pour into the city from all parts of Morocco to ask for the Shereef's blessing. At this time Negro and Negress slaves are grouped together by their different owners on an open piece of ground.

The buyers then crowd round and ask questions about the age, health, and, in the case of a woman slave, if she is married. The owner always says that his women slaves are still unmarried, as single women usually fetch higher prices than married ones. Of course, there is always haggling over the price, especially if there is some physical defect, which is invariably the case. The teeth are inspected, arms are pinched, and a male slave is often asked to lift heavy loads.

SLAVES' HAPPY LOT.

Contrary to the general belief, the lot of a slave in Morocco is a comparatively happy one. All they have to do is to escort visitors through the gardens which form part of the rich Moor's estate. Another duty is to keep watch from a minaret for indiscreet strangers who pry into that part of the garden reserved for the women of the household. Indoors there are often as many as 15 slaves all occupied, say, in preparing tea for their master's guests. In Fez and Marrakesh women slaves are taught to dance, and their entertainment reminds an onlooker of the Arabian Nights.

At present traders' caravans are fighting shy of Wazzan, and no slaves have entered the city since the French authorities prohibited their sale. By this means it is hoped to do away with the slave traffic throughout the European zones.—The "Daily Mail."

"WILD OATS."

BISHOP ON LAX MORAL VIEWS.

"Am I misrepresenting public opinion generally when I say that it is the prevailing opinion that every young man will sow his wild oats?" asked the Bishop of London in an address on the resolutions passed by the Lambeth Conefrence in relation to the problems of marriage.

It was urged, he said, by many that they could not expect a young man to live a pure life. Young men were encouraged to purchase parcels of prophylaccies. Some went so far as to say they must not be too hard on a man for one or two lapses after his marriage. It was also urged that marriage was all right so long as the two parties "got on together"; if they did not it became a farce, and as soon as possible they should obtain a divorce. The resolutions of the Lambeth Conference sought to combat such dangerous doctrines and enunciated the true Christian spirit.

"I cannot understand," said the bishop, "why you do not take more interest in the Public Morality Council and try to put down bad plays and consider the problem of open spaces. I daresay some of you respectable people have no idea what goes on in some of these open spaces of London. The idea that marriage is a kind of licensed prostitution is one of those horrible ideas that we must fight against. No marriage should take place in the Church if the former husband or wife is still alive. In half the divorces that take place there is collusion and the Church must take a clear and firm line."—The "Daily Mail."

CHURCH'S LOST OPPORTUNITY.

"The Church would inculcate the lesson of duty with greater authority on the Labour Party to-day if she had inculcated it on the employers of labour fifty years ago".—Dr. Welldon, Dean of Durham, at Westminister Abbey.

DR. S. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR
"DIABETES SPECJALIST."

RARE AND INVALUABLE SPECIFIC FOR THE CURE OF "DIABETES."

After a short visit to the Madras Presidency on professional work, Dr. S. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR, the well-known Diabetes Specialist, has RETURNED TO BOMBAY and will be glad to treat "DIABETES" suffering patients.

During the short stay he has made here before he has treated and has completely cured many persons of whom the following are a few:—

KANYALAL BADRIDAS, a Cotton Merchant, Bombay, writes:—

"It gives me great pleasure in testifying to the real efficacy of Dr. S. R. Iyengar's medicinal drugs. I was suffering from "Diabetes" for the last 12 years—Commenced Dr. Iyengar's treatment—my urine was examined by the Bombay Municipal Analyst, the Spleen Gravity was 1037 and sugar 5-62 per cent. After treatment, the Administration of the same Municipal Analyst; and Dr. N. H. Clubwala, M.D., B. Hy. (Bombay), at Dr. Masina Hospital, Pathological Laboratory 'Sugar was found nil' and Spleen Gravity 1013."

Mr. BHAILAL V. KOTHARI, B.A., LL.B., Vakil, High Court, Bombay, writes:—

"It gives me great and sincere pleasure in testifying to the real efficacy of Dr. S. S. Iyengars medical drugs. I was suffering from Diabetes for over 4 years and had tried many well-known doctors of Bombay, but without effect. I then put myself under the treatment of the said Doctor Iyengar and he prescribed a course of 7 complete weeks for me. As each week progressed the disease that could not at all be controlled before, began to abate with the result that I was completely cured at the end of the course, in such a marvellous way that I can very well say that Dr. Iyengar is not a diabetes specialist in name, but a specialist indeed in reality. My Sp. Gr. which was 1058 in the beginning of the course came down to 1015 at the end and grains of sugar per ounce of urine fell down from 24 to nil, while sentiments were not at all visible.

HOME MARKETS.

BOMBAY, Dec. 3.

During the week under review New York at one time touched 14·85 cents for January 1921 the lowest point of the season, whilst Liverpool touched 10·26d. for January 1921.

Changes in the Home Markets during the week will be shown from the table below :—

	24th Nov. 1920.	30th Nov. 1920.
Liverpool Spot	1920 13·21	11·56—165
New York Spot	1920 17·30	16·00—130

Liverpool Jan.	1921 11·60	11·14—46
Liverpool Mar.	1921 11·56	11·28—28
New York Jan.	1921 16·45	16·08—37
New York Mar.	1921 16·25	15·15—10

Since the opening of forward business in the Local Market, prices dropped down 18 to 20 Rs. in Broach Cotton whilst March Oomras advanced about 20 Rs. A large straddle business has been done in the last two days both by merchants and exporters viz buying March Oomras and selling Fully Good Broach at a difference of 70 to 80 Rs. The present difference is now 65 to 66 Rs. We recommend our constituents to buy March Oomras at about Rs. 250.

As for Ready Cotton sellers are very anxious to sell their ready lots both New and Old at a concession of Rs. 20 to 30 but the enquiry is very poor and off take small owing to Europe and Japan exporters being out of the Market.

PIECE GOODS.

Business in the Cloth Market during the past week has been very [illegible]. The [illegible] of demand has been keenly felt by the mills, who have commenced to cut down prices in order to induce buyers to put [illegible]. The tightness of the money market as well as the restriction of the credit system has been a [illegible] to a great extent, and the want of confidence in present prices coupled with the uncertainty as to the future outlook, has deterred buyers from committing themselves to transactions of any importance. On the one hand, merchants as well as Egyptian cotton have been receiving daily [illegible] Lancashire makers are in want of work to keep their looms going, and on the other several importing firms here are holding stocks, which they would be too glad to dispose on even at a heavy sacrifice. Dealers have therefore been wisely adopting a waiting policy, the more so, as the position of exchange still remains to be solved. The rate of exchange has gone down during the week making matters more unfavourable for the importers. At the present moment, the loss to dealers on high priced goods with the current rate of exchange is about fifty per cent, and it is feared that if the situation does not soon take a favourable turn, many merchants will not be in a position to face the heavy losses.

The importing Firms who have purchased goods on their own account, are in the same plight. Most of them are holding on, fearing to face the loss, but as time goes on, interest and warehouse charges will accrue on the goods and the capital will be locked up. Besides they will have to face the risk of a further decline in Manchester and also suffer loss in exchange should the rate go up when they are inclined to sell.

The Manchester market has been easier. The situation in Lancashire is stated to be the worst since the American Civil War. It is estimated that the production in Burnley has been curtailed seventy per cent. Many Mills are only working in daylight twice weekly. Most of the employers have been restricting the output in consequence of the lack of new orders. The Federation of the Master Cotton Spinners at Manchester has decided to take the vote of the members on the proposal to curtail production in the mills spinning American cotton by fifty per cent. Eighteen warehouses in Liverpool and Bootle, principally cotton warehouses containing thousands of tons of cotton were set fire to

QUADRANGULAR CRICKET.

MAHOMEDANS' SPLENDID STAND.

HINDUS' FEEBLE ATTACK.

Hindus	313
Mahomedans (7 wkt)	241

Larger crowds than on the first day witnessed the start on the second day of the match between the Hindus and the Mahomedans, which was more at 11-30 yesterday morning. Among those who witnessed the game yesterday were their Excellencies Sir George and Lady Lloyd, who arriving shortly after 12 noon watched the game for a considerable time. Their Excellencies lunched with the teams in the afternoon and subsequently paid a visit to the 'shamianas' of the three Indian Gymkhanas where they were received with cheering. They were received and garlanded at the Mahomedan "shamiana" by the Hon. Sir Ibrahim Rahimtulla, President of the Islam Gymkhana, and Mr. Hadi C. Tyebji, Secretary of the Gymkhana; at the Parsi "shamiana" by Sir Jamsetji Jejeebhoy and Mr. J. M. Divecha, President and Secretary respectively of the Parsi Gymkhana; and at the Hindu "shamiana" by the Hon. Mr C V. Mehta, Vice-President, and Mr. S. A. Shete, Secretary, Hindu Gymkhana.

WHO GAINS THE LEAD?

As the result of the two days' play the game stands in a very interesting position. The Hindus, who overnight had made 263 for 8 wickets, carried their total to 313 yesterday morning. The Mahomedans, then entering upon their first venture; had hit-up 243 for 7 wickets when stumps were drawn for the day at 5-30 in the afternoon. Time and again these Quadrangular contest have shown that there are no more indomitable fighters than the Mahomedans in the field of cricket and the splendid stand they made yesterday once more demontracted that fact. The odds against them were indeed heavy. In spite of the poor show made by their bowlers on the first day they are a fine bowling side, but even their warmest admirers would hesitate to credit them with possessing any great batting strength, and yet, plucky fighters that they are, they once more in these tournaments rose to the occasion yesterday and putting up a most gallant fight have placed their side in a position to which they can look back with satisfaction. They made a disastrous start, losing Patel before a single had been scored, Tambuwa'a only at 39 and Yusuf Beg 13 runs later. The cheap dismissal of this great batsman caused considerable disappointment among them and reduced to practically nil their hopes of a decent score. Then however came a remarkable stand by C. Murad and Hasan Shah, who defying the Hindu attack for a considerable length of time added 73 runs before a separation of their partnership was effected. This great partnership, though not quite big in the number of the runs actually produced, proved the turning point of the Mahomedan innings. Hitherto the Hindu bowlers had the upper hand but the two batsmen successfully resisted them—later something like mastering their attack—and when Murad left at 143 with the fall of the fifth wicket, he had placed his side in a vastly improved position. After him, Hasan Shah continued the fight with the assistance of his other colleagues and at the end of the day's game, the side had put up the fine total of 243 for seven wickets. They are still 70 runs behind their opponents but still have three wickets in hand and there is no knowing what may happen till that splendid fighter Hasan Shah remains in. They have as good a chance of securing a lead on the first innings as the Hindus. At any rate a keen struggle is expected to-day for a lead, for both sides know that within the short time now left definite result the match cannot be played to a definite conclusion and that consequently the lead on the first innings will entitle one or the other of them to play in the final match of the tournament on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next.

FINE MAHOMEDAN BATTING.

The Mahomedan batting yesterday came as a pleasant surprise to supporters of Islam cricket. It represented a substantial change from the happy-go-lucky methods of batting to which their men were so very prone in the past. Their batting has in previous years always been brilliant whether they made a big score or small but it lacked defence. Now however they appear to have grasped the fact that it is not brilliancy but solidity that wins matches in the end, and yesterday though they let no opportunity pass by of scoring they did not throw away their wickets by indulging in wild hitting. During the closing stages of yesterday's game Hasan Shah did do some hard hitting but it was no wild slogging. The tactics which he adopted were eminently suited to the occasion, for the Hindu bowlers were then tired and their attack had lost its sting. One can have nothing but admiration for the splendid batting displays given by Murad and Hasan Shah. The former, playing with an easy, graceful style recalling that of that other great left-hander Colonel Mistry of Patiala, resisted the Hindu attack for over three hours, and the beauty of his, as that of Hasan Shah's innings, was that he gave not the ghost of a chance during his long stay at the wicket. His batting presented a splendid combination of sound defence and fine hitting and he richly deserved the ovation which greeted him on his return to the pavilion. Hasan Shah was another man who put up a fine fight on behalf of his side yesterday. He closely watched every ball and mercilessly came down on anything that was not good length or was pitched off the wickets. His splendid strokes chief among which were twelve 4's were loudly cheered by the spectators, and at the close he remained undefeated with 80 to his credit. The Hindu bowlers did not bowl upto their reputation yesterday. Only Rana and Joshi met with some success and even they were freely hit in the afternoon.

DETAILS OF THE GAME.

The overnight not-outs Shroff and Ran resumed the Hindus' first innings shortly after 11-30 a.m. Before the previous total had been added by a single run, Shroff got his leg in front of his wickets where his bat should have been and retired, Abdus Salaam being the successful bowler. (263—9—3).

Godambe, the last man in, got a 4 off the same bowler, and three singles brought up 270 on the board. The two batsmen hit out, Rana pulling Salehmahomed to leg for 1 and Godambe hitting the same bowler to the Wandby Road boundary and sending 280. Rana then lifted Abdus Salaam and Azim Khan though he made a fine effort failed to hold him. Tambuwa'a now relieved Salehmahomed at the Gymkhana end, Godambe finely sending the new bowler in his next over twice to the boundary. 290 was signalled and Godambe was missed at the wicket by Irfani, Abdus Salaam suffering. The batsman then hoisted the third century on the board amid loud cheering by finely cutting Abdus Salaam for 4 and next hitting him for a like number. Rana then lifted Tambuwala and was held in the long field by Patel, the Hindus' first innings terminating at 12 30 p.m., with the total at 313. (313—10—15). Godambe, who remained unbeaten, had played fine cricket for his 29.

MAHOMEDAN INNINGS.

The Mahomedans commenced their first innings at 12-40 p.m., Patel and Murad facing the Hindu attack delivered by Rana and Joshi. Rana with his second delivery scattered Patel's wickets before a single had been scored. (0—1—0).

Tambuwala, coming in, splendidly drove Joshi to the boundary, and a little later Murad sending Rana for 2 put up the first ten on the board, next finely putting the same bowler to leg for 4. Runs were coming in at the rate of one per minute, 30 appearing on the board after half an hour's play. Murad then sent Joshi to the Wandby Road boundary. At 39 a fast-rising ball, touching Tambuwala's bat, went into slips, passing from Dalvi's into Naidu's hands, Rana again being the successful bowler. (39—2—13).

Tambuwala had played correct cricket for his 13. His place was taken by Mirza Yusuf Beg, whom Murad welcomed with a fine boundary hit off Rana, 40 appearing on the board. The Mahomedan score stood at 52 for 2 wickets at 1-30 p.m. when play was adjourned for lunch.

On resumption after lunch, Yusuf Beg tried to pull to leg a beautiful delivery from Joshi which breaking in from that direction found his wickets. (52—3—4).

His place was taken by Feroze Khan of Kashmere, who prettily cut Rana for a 4 and 60 went up, followed some time later by 70. With the total at the same figure Feroze Khan was held in the slips by Godambe, Joshi being the successful bowler. (70—4—9.)

Hasan Shah next became associated with Murad and Godambe replaced Rana, Murad finely cutting the new bowler to the western boundary. Murad, who was playing splendid, faultless cricket, now reached his half century amid cheering by putting Joshi to leg for 3. At 3-20 p.m. the Mahomedans had made 95 for 4 wickets.

HASAN SHAH IN FINE FORM.

Shortly after, Murad despatched Joshi to the leg boundary, signalling the century on the board amid loud cheering, Hasan Shah responding by hitting the same bowler for a like number of runs. At 111 Nagligum was entrusted with the attack in place of Joshi, and Dalvi relieved Godambe. Hasan Shah twice hit Dalvi to the boundary and 120 appeared on the board. The changes in the bowling had no effect on the Mahomedan defence, both Murad and Hasan Shah continuing to play a fine game, the former especially making very pretty strokes, which were loudly cheered by the spectators. An adjournment was at this stage made for tea, and on the restart, Naidu was entrusted with the attack from the Gymkhana end. Murad, who had been playing a splendid game, then threw away his wicket, running himself out in a hasty attempt to snatch a run. Going in to open the Mahomedan innings he was in for a long time, in the course of which he played excellent cricket unmarred by a shadow of a faulty stroke, and his contribution of 86 included thirteen 4's. (143—5—86).

With Hasan Shah's assistance, the outgoing batsman had added 73 for the fifth wicket. Abdus Salaam, who took his place, splendidly drove Naidu to the southern boundary, and 150 appeared on the board greeted by loud cheering, which was renewed on Abdus Salaam making the first over-bound stroke of the match, lifting Naidu clean over the eastern boundary. 160 was signalled and Hasan Shah finely hitting Joshi twice to the boundary, telegraphed 170. Abdus Salaam had a "life" at this stage, Godambe missing him in the slips, Naidu being the bowler who suffered. He, however, did not survive this character, for in the next over Rana beat him with a well-pitched delivery. (179—6—20).

Bham, who took the outgoing batsman's place, drove Rana for 3 and 180 went up, and a little later Hasan Shah hoisted the second century amid loud cheering by again sending Joshi twice to the boundary. At 212, Rana got past Bham's defence with a beautiful delivery. (212—7—18).

Azim Khan next joined Hasan Shah, who hit out in splendid fashion and quickly sent up the score to 240. The Mahomedans had made 241 for 7 wickets, at 5-30 p.m., when stumps were drawn for the day.

"TREATED LIKE SLAVES."

MISERABLE STORY OF 3 WOMEN.

At the Esplanade Police Court before Mr. A. H. S. Aston, Sub-Inspector Balsekar charged Manibai, Bachibai and Forseelann Fernandeze, three young women, with the theft of ornaments and wearing apparels of the total value of Rs. 500, belonging to one Hisubai.

Mr. Vijaykar, pleader, appeared on behalf of the complainant, while Mr. K. F. Nariman, pleader, defended the accused.

The prosecution alleged that the three accused women were leading a bad life in a house kept by the complainant, at Kandewadi. About a week ago they disappeared from the house with the property. The police were informed who traced all the accused in another house with some of the ornaments and clothes in their possessin.

The accused's story was that the charge was a false and vexatious one. All the three women were seduced by the complainant and were made to lead a bad life. Accused No. 3, who was a Christian woman had been employed as an aya in a respectable family and it was the complainant who had forced her to leave the service on promises of rich clothes and precious ornaments. After they went to her house, they found that none of the complainant's promises were acted upon; besides, they were ill-fed and ill-clad. They used to earn Rs. 20 to Rs. 25, each, per day and the complainant pocketed all their earnings and if they earned less they were assaulted. One night Abbas a friend of the complainant threatened them with a knife and the next morning they escaped from the house leaving behind all their ornaments and other belongings. The property found with them was their own.

His worship on the evidence was convinced that the three "women were treated like slaves" by the complainant, and that their version was true. They were therefore ordered to be discharged. .....

TELEPHONE GIRL TRAGEDY.

JEURY'S VERDICT.

The Coroner concluded the inquest into the death of Dorothy Barwick aged 22, an employee of the Bombay Telephone Company within a few minutes of her admission to the Bai Motlani Hospital on the 9th ultimo, under circumstances already reported.

Dr. Joseph De Sylva who was suspected of causing the death was present at the enquiry with his Counsel, his pleader. Inspector O'Brien of the C I D. led the evidence.

Dr. Erach P Ghadially who conducted the post mortem examination said there were no bones broken, and no bruises. In witness opinion death was due to hoemorrhage due to abortion. He produced the chemical Analyses report that no poison was found in the stomach.

Hugh Duncan Everett, Telegraphist Government Telegraph Department, said he had been to Dr. De Sylva's dispensary for medicine with one Pink. The doctor came from an adjoining room after some minutes and asked Pink to get an ambulance. Witness and Pink went to the Bai Motlabai Hospital to Dr. Easdon, who sent them to Macgregor with whom they deposited Rs. 10 and got the ambulance. The deceased was put into the ambulance; she was perspiring and cold; she had a jacket and a black cloth on her person, like the one produced, on her loins. She had on nothing else, no boots or stockings, or under linen. No one accompanied the strecher and the next day witness heard of her death.

Pink gave corroborative evidence.

Deputy Inspector Fergusson gave evidence that he found in De Sylva's room a petticoat, stockings and gasters stained with blood.

In summing up the evidence the Coroner characterised the conduct of De Sylva in sending the deceased to the hospital unattended as most inhuman, and as no attempt was made by him to stop the hoemorrhage he was guilty of gross negligence.

The jury returned a verdict that death was caused by hoemorrhage resulting from abortion. They considered De Sylva's was guilty of gross negligence and inhuman conduct in the treatment of the unfortunate girl.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE.

Saturday, December 4, 1920.

"THE SATANIC NATURE OF GOVERNMENT."

It is interesting to trace the origin of the claim to irresponsible power—or, as Mr. Gandhi puts it—of "the Satanic nature"—of modern European governments. In Asia there have at times been governments more diabolical in practice than any to be found in European history, but they were never accepted in theory nor regarded as right by any thinker, nor did the guilty rulers consider themselves supreme; rather they held themselves to be the slaves and spokesmen of some supernatural power, and justified their wickedness by that assumption. In short, that cynicism which is the chief characteristic of modern European governments has never had—and we sincerely hope will never have—a place in Asia. Some people will no doubt protest that we are talking nonsense, that modern European governments are democratic, and therefore are responsible to the people, and so forth. Let us put it in another form and say, that the irresponsible authority of the State, with the acceptance by the statesmen of the axiom that "moral considerations have no place in politics", is a European phenomenon which is utterly abhorrent to the mind of Asia—that is to say, to the religious mind, for it is based on the negation of the law of God. It is obviously anti-Christian, yet it was not known in Europe in pre-Christian times, and so must be regarded as a product of that civilisation which, to save the trouble of a closer definition, we call "Christian."

In the Roman Empire on which Europe's claim to a superior civilisation is so largely based, there was an official called the Tribune of the People who had the recognised authority to intervene at any moment and even to arrest the course of government on behalf of the rights and liberties of the Roman people—i.e., on moral grounds. The right in later times became merely nominal, but it was always recognised in theory, and when the Western Roman Empire fell to pieces under the attacks of the barbarians, this theory of the direct responsibility of the governors to the governed, as a religious and inalienable part of government, survived. In the republics which sprang up in Italy with the revival of learning, it was once more claimed with a new vehemence derived from study of the gospels, which preach the exaltation of the poor and lowly. The claim too vehemently urged produced disorders, which made the democratic states of Italy compare unfavourably with the autocratic states in the opinion of a studious individual who wanted peace and quiet for his studies. Such an individual happened to be sent as envoy from the Florentine Republic to the greatest tyrant of the day in Italy, who at the time was "pacifying" the Abruzzi. The pacification was achieved by fire and sword in the most ruthless way. When it was over, not a dog dared bark without the tyrant's leave. The studious secretary was horrified by the destruction and the wholesale massacres he witnessed but was delighted by the perfect peace and order which were the result. Here was a country in which a studious Secretary with a turn for theorising could think out his theories at ease, without the noise of faction-fights beneath his windows, and the perpetual disturbance of the neighbours' quarrels. On his return to Florence where such faction-fights and quarrels occurred daily he looked back towards the pacified Abruzzi as a happy land, and to the tyrant who had pacified it as the greatest statesman of the Age. And having in mind that tyrants, he wrote with all his usual care a book, which has high literary merit, in which he set forth his ideal of what a ruler should be. He called his book "The Prince." And because of the desire to justify his actions which exists in every man, and of the natural desire of most rulers for absolute power, this book was accepted by all tyrants and all would-be tyrants as the text-book of high politics, and has retained that reputation with the rulers of the modern State. Even a professed democrat and Christian like Gladstone studied it habitually and approved the tenour of its teaching in the field of politics.

But the opinion of the peoples and of independent thinkers may be judged from the sinister meaning which attaches in all literature to the word Machiavellian. That Nicola Machiavelli, the studious Secretary of our narrative, meant well, we believe; and he wrote a book, which, on its literary merits, and for the original thought which it contains, deserves a high position as a classic. But it would be well if every politician would recall the circumstances under which that book was written, and remember that Machiavelli's "Prince" was Caesar Borgia, who by the common voice of his contemporaries was a fiend incarnate. That is the pedigree of the theory of unmoral irresponsible authority which has outed the old Roman notion of direct responsibility, as typified in the Tribune of the People, in the modern European State. We think our readers will agree with us that it is not angelic; and that religious persons may be justified in regarding it as Satanic as compared with the teaching of The Coran or the Vedas or the Gospels.

MILITARY ORTHOPAEDICS

The problem of dealing justly by disabled men has been given a prominence during the war not previously known, and there is evidence that England is more than willing to bear the very heavy financial burden involved. On the part of the Government there has been a strongly-evidenced desire to deal fairly with these brave but broken men; on the part of the medical and allied professions there has been no sparing of energy and ability in the efforts to introduce successful methods of dealing with the disabilities of the men who have returned from the front. Many will be the men who will return to civilian life seriously handicapped by the disabilities due to wounds received in war, but concerning these the public will know that not only have the Government sought to place at their disposal the best methods for reducing these disabilities, but that the surgeons and specialists selected to deal with these shattered limbs have proved their abilities and readiness to place their services at the command of every disabled man. It is true that the departments for dealing with these cases have come gradually into being, but it must be remembered that the work is almost new, and only after careful thought and organisation has it been possible for adequate arrangements to be made for these men. In previous articles we referred to the striking advances in the matter of surgical operations being carried on regularly in the hospitals at the front and at the base. In this article we refer specially to a form of surgical work which has made striking developments since the war began, and which has for its object the restoration of the disabled limbs by means of certain scientific manipulations of the parts affected. The aim of orthopaedics is to correct the deformities of bones and joints so that the natural action of the muscles on them may be restored. Formerly the orthopaedic surgeon confined his attention to correcting the deformities of children, which were for the most part of congenital origin. Later, the value of this branch of surgery was recognised in connection with the deformities of adults, and in several places good work was done by men like Mr. Hugh Owen Thomas at Liverpool, who gradually formulated certain principles of treatment. These methods have been greatly improved on during the war, and this department of medical work has become one of the most important both from the national point of view as well as from the individual. Through the hospitals established by the Director-General of Medical Services, thousands of broken men have passed, if not thoroughly restored in the use of their limbs, at least in a position to hold their own in the economic life of the country. The testimony of a surgeon who has close personal knowledge of the benefits received in these establishments says: "To convert the fighting man who has been seriously crippled in war into a useful citizen again is a work of appalling magnitude. It is now being realised that a large part of the surgery of this war, strictly speaking, is orthopaedic in character. Hundreds of thousands of soldiers are returning home with all kinds of deformities and it is the duty of the medical profession, where possible, to restore to them the use of their limbs, so that if they are not fitted for further service they may return to civil life a perfectly contented body of men. There will naturally be great discontent if our disabled soldiers of to-day are forgotten to-morrow, and allowed to exist with the cruel deformities of war robbing them of the chance to earn a comfortable livelihood."

This aspect of repair work among the soldiers may be divided into two branches, and while each is of the greatest interest, it will serve our purpose briefly to outline the main lines of treatment followed in the departments. The first is concerned with the work done in the hospital when the men are directly under the control of surgeons who have made a special study of this type of work. Stiff muscles are gradually won back to suppleness by ingenious machines which call out their latent energy; stiff joints are loosened, limbs which had been useless in other conditions are restored to strength by the use of certain baths, followed by massage, or by the application of high frequency current. Then the gradual strengthening of the muscles has been encouraged by other methods which help to bring a new joy into the life of the disabled. Thus the steady work of repair goes on. These hospitals, fortunately sufficient to cope with the demands, are equipped with gymnastic machinery which is used in accordance with a systematised and scientifically based method of gymnastics to suit the respective disabilities of the patients. The men in these hospitals are not normal, for those muscles have often become stiff through the effects of the wounds received and the treatment they have undergone during the operation by the surgeon. They have weak wrists, or stiff fingers or joints, and muscles that refuse to respond to the nerve-centres of action. For each of these disabilities there is some kind of machinery or simple, ingenious arrangement whereby the affected parts are gradually made to respond in a normal way. The soldier with a weak wrist exercises it by turning a handle fixed in the wall, the degree of resistance given to the handle depending on the degree of weakness in the patient. Stiff-jointed elbows are exercised by means of boxing, the partner being a dummy of some kind. The muscles of the arms and legs are exercised by a specially weighted football which is tossed from one patient to another. Riding is an exercise which can be made to exercise a number of important muscles, and a mechanical arrangement, in the form of a riding horse, produces the motion of riding, giving flexion to the hip and other joints. The use of massage has been greatly increased in these hospitals, and the value of this important treatment in connection with the restoration of muscles is increasingly recognised. The demand has been met by the careful training of a considerable number of blind soldiers, many of whom have proved themselves adepts at the work. There is, of course, an almost endless number of experiments in various methods of treatment being carried on, and it is gratifying to know that though the French at one time were supposed to be far ahead of the British in this particular branch of surgical work, it is generally accepted that the British are not one whit behind any of the Allies, and in some respects they are in the van.

The second part of the treatment deals more with the training of disabled men, who have submitted to the treatment referred to for some useful occupation. It is admitted that one of the main difficulties the authorities have had to face has been the indifference many of these disabled men show toward the provision of suitable occupation for their future. No country can afford, on economic grounds alone, to permit these men to remain idle, and the "curative work-shops" are intended to save the man's own self-respect, as well as to meet the economic problems the country will have to face after the war. There comes a point in the treatment when it is natural to ask whether it is not better that the treatment should be directed in channels which will, while giving strength to the disabled limbs, also prove useful in giving the man a trade. The establishment of these curative workshops, now in considerable numbers throughout England—there is also one in India, and several in the Colonies—has made possible the preparation of thousands of disabled men for many trades and professions. As vigour returns, the "dummy" machines are replaced by the work-table, the lathe, the saw, the chisel, even the spade and the scythe. The joy of work accomplished enters into the man's spirit, and the painful task becomes light and easy until exercise is exercise no longer but rather a means to an end clearly realised and desired. Even while he is being cured of his disability the broken man is being re-made as citizen; he goes in a cripple, to emerge with a useful trade at his fingerends. This work can only be successful if it is carried on with sympathy, and there is no doubt that this problem has been approached in the right spirit. The man is never lost sight of; he is assisted in every possible way to get confidence in him It is because this work has been ent into in the right spirit by the author that, in spite of the fact that it is lunary on the part of the disabled r —it is compulsory in France and I —large numbers have passed thro these workshops and are now hold good posts. It is said that 10 out of men treated in these hospitals and w shops have been able to return in so capacity into the Army. It has b possible only to outline the general tures of this branch of medical wo but the importance of it must be evid

Notes of the Da

Mr. Montagu on Mesopotamia.

Addressing the Constitutional Club, Mesopotamia, Mr. Montagu is reported have said that he "looked forward earnes ly to the day when one Department of th State would be responsible to Parliamen for everything in Mesopotamia." One D partment of the British State, and to th British Parliament. We, on the contrary look forward earnestly to the day when th independent Arab Government of Mesc potamia, and it alone, will be responsibl to the Arab Parliament for everything i Mesopotamia. Mr. Montagu is worried b the inconveniences arising from the presen dual control by the India Office and th Inter-Departmental Committee. Though later in his speech he did refer to "ou work of forming a permanent Arab Govern ment", he could not look forward "earnest ly" so far as that. His earnest foresight went no further than the day when (presumably) the India Office—or is it to be a new "Mesopotamia Office"?—shall have undivided dominion over everything in Mesopotamia. Whether such undivided control by an English State Department would be likely to conduce towards the work of forming an "Arab Government" in Mesopotamia in an effective sense, and is not much more likely to make permanent the present formation or deposit of a British bureaucratic government in that unhappy land, we may beg leave to doubt. It is at least interesting to know that the ideas of the Secretary of State for India do not go beyond the unifying of British bureaucratic control at a time when India is demanding the withdrawal of her troops from Mesopotamia and a large part of the British Press and public are clamouring for the immediate evacuation of that country.

Mesopotamia and the Ottoman Turks.

In the same speech Mr. Montagu said that he would rather evacuate Mesopotamia "than ape the Turks who had brought the country to ruin." Turks—or Tartars—it is true, did cause the ruin of Mesopotamia by destroying the irrigation works, and massacring a large part of the inhabitants—but that happened centuries before the Ottoman Turks were even heard of, and the culprits were not Muslims at that time; though afterwards they were conquered by the conquered and embraced Islam. The most that can be charged to the Ottoman Turks, is that they left the country very much as they found it, except for some improvements in the towns, and they left the people alone so long as they behaved themselves, until a few years ago, when they began to try to introduce the kind of law and order which we associate with a modern State. All the discontent with Turkish rule—and it was never much—which ever manifested itself in Mesopotamia was due to that attempt. Evidently Mr. Montagu, like many other people, does not realise that the Turks were not oppressive, but most easy-going rulers. The Turkish Empire was the very mother of autonomies. Every tribe and community was autonomous and the Government only interfered when one autonomy clashed with or attacked another. The Turkish force was the protector of the settled population and the policeman—or more often arbitrator—of the warlike tribes. It was the attempt of the Young Turks to introduce a state of things more consonant with modern notions, which caused trouble here and there; and that attempt was nothing as compared with what the British have been doing, since they "took" the country. The imposing, by force of arms, of order on a country, where disorders were regarded as a kind of spring-time sport, and every man of spirit shocked the Government, has brought in a year more loss of life, more suffering and more cruelty than the natural disorder of the land brought in a century. We may add that the Turks had begun to restore the irrigation works of Mesopotamia with the help of well-known English engineers when Turkey came into the war. We wish that English statesmen—and particularly Secretaries of State for India—would look up the facts before they speak on Eastern subjects.

LONDON. Dec. 1.
Recd. 1-5 p.m., Dec. 3.

Mr. Lloyd George speaking at a dinner given by the Federation of British Industries, referred to the coming serious trade depression which was world-wide. He was afraid it was inevitable, but the question was whether anything was possible to shorten it and mitigate the evils.

The first remedy was peace. Europe must work with both hands. She could not handle the sword in one hand, and trowel in the other. In the main, the Government policy was the less the interference with trade the better. He appealed to the nation to back up the Government in the campaign of economy. He declared that there must be thrift not only in the Government departments, but at home. Family committees on economy were needed as well as Government committees.

The resolutions propose that in the event of a breach of the Covenant being reported to the Council each country belonging to the League, will break off diplomatic relations with the delinquent State and take as rapidly as possible the necessary measures compatible with the national constitution to prohibit its inhabitants having relations with the inhabitants of the State against which the blockade is directed.

FURTHER ARRESTS.

On the arrival of the Aquitania at Southampton from New York, six suspected Sinn Feiners were arrested, possessing arms and ammunition.

Professor MacNeill, who was arrested on November 26, has been released. Mr. Arthur Griffith remains in the Mountjoy Gaol. Altogether 400 persons have been arrested in Dublin during the past ten days, including the manager and two of the staff of the newspaper "Young Ireland." The efficiency of the roundups is evidenced by the numbers of rifles, revolvers and bombs and the amount of ammunition found lying in the streets of Dublin, which the owners have discarded, fearing they would be found in their possession.

The Sinn Fein Hall in Limerick was burned, yesterday evening.

Four incendiary fires occurred Cork, yesterday evening. The City Hall was set on fire by bombs thrown through windows, but the fire was speedily checked.

The Police, to-day, searched the offices of the Irish Self Determination League in London and four other houses, and removed all documents and money.

DRAFT RULES OF REFORM ACT.

APPROVED BY LORDS.

LORD LYTTON'S WRATH ON "STREAM OF CALUMNIES."

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, Dec. 1.
Recd. 1-40 p.m., Dec. 3.

The House of Lords agreed to the resolutions moved by Lord Lytton approving with certain modifications the draft rules under the Government of India Act which were presented on August 11th. Lord Lytton emphasised that the Government of India, the India Office and the Joint Committee had most carefully considered the rules which represented the considered opinion of those bodies in the honest attempt to find the best solution to the difficult problems involved. Lord Selborne referred to the Joint Committee's recommendation that the Government of India should take steps to give the utmost publicity to their intentions and policy.

He said he had heard that there had never been greater, more malignant and more persistent stream of calumnies and lies than was at present wooding India against the intentions of the Government of India, the Imperial Government and the whole British policy towards India. He was told on authority, which he could not doubt, that these lies were being believed because the Government of India remained dumb. The campaign of calumny might have direct consequences yet nothing really important in way of propaganda was being done to counteract it. On behalf of the Joint Committee, he protested against this. He believed that it was not yet too late to do a great deal to counteract the dire mischief of this campaign, but if the whole case of the benefits of British rule and noble, magnanimous intentions of the British Government were allowed to go by default, most tremendous responsibility would rest with the Government.

ALLEGED ATTEMPTED FRAUD ON GOVT. OF INDIA.

WAITE DENIES ALLEGATIONS.

After the collapse of Waite at the termination of his examination in which, giving evidence on his own behalf, Waite said that at the time of the transactions he was away from the office receiving the Pasteur treatment for serious injury and that the only reason he came to London was for the purpose of undergoing an operation. He emphatically denied the allegations against himself and denied receipt of any commission from Spaldings.

Bail was allowed.

The Downing Street conferences between Mr. Lloyd George, Mr. Leygues and Sgr. Sforza are being resumed to-morrow. It is understood that the conversations have up to the present proved no strong divergence of views on the Greek or other matters. It seems certain, however, that Greece under the new regime cannot or most likely will not want to do all that was expected of Greece under Venizelos. This alone would involve the revision of the Treaty of Sevres.

NON-CO OPERATION.

PROGRESS AT DADAR.

Since Mr. V. J. Patel and Maulana Shaukat Ali delivered lectures on Non-Cooperation, Dadar is fast progressing. Recently there were two public meetings held, one on the 20th and another on the 28th instant, both of them showed good spirit and enthusiasm in the people. There was also a meeting of ladies when Mrs. Avantikabai Gokhale delivered a lecture on Swadeshi and introduced hand-spinning among the ladies. The public meeting of the 20th was addressed by Mr. Ashtaputre of Satara, and of the 28th by Mr. C. V. Vaidya of Kalyan, both speeches being most impressive. There has also been a tea-preventive movement which has attained a great success, as almost all the tea-shops at Dadar and around have stopped tea-selling, of their own accord. The meeting of the 28th, besides appointing a Committee to attempt to establish an Industrial School at Dadar, passed a resolution thanking the tea-stopping hotel-keepers, and also passed a resolution declaring that the newly elected members were not the representatives of the people.

SIR REGINALD ON NON-CO-OPERATION.

VELVET GLOVE RULING.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
RANGOON. Dec. 1.

At St Andrew's Day Dinner His Honour the Lt.-Governor delivered a speech of political interest.

His Honour paid a warm tribute to the services rendered by the Viceroy. There was no Viceroy, he added, who had more finely upheld the highest traditions of the British rule in India.

Referring to "The land we live in", Sir Reginald said:—Sorry there has been some misunderstanding about the first elections to the new Legislative Assembly and the Council of State. I freely admit the franchise and electoral rolls are of a make shift kind. It was not till April, that we knew definitely what representation we should be given. Indian proposals had to go before the Parliament, and there was no time to ascertain what numerical voting to the different races would result from different standards of qualifications. Our own local self-government scheme was only under preparation and our own reform proposals were with higher authorities. I regret the action taken by the Young Men's Buddhist Association, in regard to these elections. One's position is much more strengthened by showing that one's best efforts have failed. than by not trying at all. It is, however never too late to mend and if we get our new reforms introduced by the end of next year we shall have got them much more quickly than Indian provinces got theirs. for they had several years' start.

Gentlemen. I hope this so-called non-participation is not a distant echo of Mr. Gandhi's non cooperation movement. We shall know the man who having attained the summit of his ambitions, kicks away the ladder by which he rose; we know him and we do not usually admire him. But can you conceive the situation in which a man who is still climbing, kicks at the ladder on which he is standing and finds followers foolish enough to applaud his action. If that ladder were to give way there would be a great fall. Most fortunately for Mr. Gandhi and his followers and for India generally. that ladder is of a very stout material. It is a ladder of British control and it is only by means of that ladder that India or Burma can hope to attain the summit of their ambitions.

ON BOYCOTT OF SCHOOLS.

Then they say to boys "give up the school. the present education creates slave mentality." Does it? Whoever heard of the English educationist or the Scotch educationist (and the Scotch have played an immense part in the education of India) creating a slave mentality? The greatest statesmen that Indians have produced were the produce of British education.

A radical Member of Parliament once said to me "Your British in India are a curious people. You go on extending and extending English education among the people although you know that it is going to result in a trouble to yourselves. The answer is plain. The British nation must do its duty, and leave the results to the verdict of history. It had done its duty. it is doing its duty, and it will continue to do its duty. Even the British Government have always done their ruling with velvet glove, and only in great emergencies have they put it off. The outcry aroused by the brief touch of the iron hand last year is the surest proof of this. But in a few days the velvet glove was once more on hand. There is no nation under the sun that resents so little the iron hand and the people of India know that well enough, and that is why they rallied so finely to the cause of the empire in the great war. There is no need to fear about the future of the land we live in whether it be India or whether it be Burma, if we, all of us try to clearly adjust ourselves to the growing surrounding, and work together for the common good.

THE FIJI SITUATION.

IMMEDIATE ENQUIRY FROM INDIAN GOVT. NEEDED.

MR. ANDREWS INTERVIEWED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
CALCUTTA, Dec. 1.

In an interview with a representative of the Associated Press, Mr. C. F. Andrews stated that the news from Fiji was the most serious, that had yet been cabled. Half of the Indian population were selling off all their property and claiming to be repatriated. A cablegram had been received from Mr. N. B. Mitter, who had done all he could in the earlier part of the year to prevent Indians from striking. It was apparent from this cablegram that they could ve restrained no longer, and were determined to leave Fiji at all costs. More prosperous free Indians are involved as well as those who have just come out of indenture. Indian property on the north side of the main island is worth at least £300,000. From this figure it may be gathered how seriously Indians have taken the situation. What is difficult to understand is the attitude of the Colonial Sugar Refining Company, with its many millions of invested capital. The non-official members of the Legislative Assembly representing, sugar planting interests, have just voted solidly for the introduction of Chinese indentured labour, but it is practically certain that Australia and New Zealand will not allow this.

Mr. Andrews states that when he was in Fiji, the planters themselves were against Chinese labour. The shortage of labour must now be extreme, and it would appear certain that very soon the Indian labourers demand for higher wages must be granted. Mr. Andrews regards it as certain that the sugar industry could easily afford these higher wages out of profits. He thinks that the matter is so urgent that an immediate enquiry is needed from the Indian Government.

Mr. Mitter in a recent letter has shown that the Fiji Government itself cannot resist the pressure of the sugar industrial capitalists. He holds that the Fiji Islands should be separated from the Colonial Office and handed over to the New Zealand Government for administration. As the Indian population is so large, and unless untoward events occur, it must be the predominant population in future. Mr. Andrews regards it as highly important, that the Indian people should have a voice in the immediate problem, as to what is to be the future status of Fiji. Perhaps the most distressing aspect of all is that the Indians from Fiji on their return to India have the greatest difficulty in being taken into the caste. Experiences of the recently returned emigrants, both as to their treatment in Calcutta and also in the upper provinces, have been bitterly disappointing. If 30,000 are to come back hurriedly, without preparations being made, suffering is likelf to be acute.

FOUR GRIEVOUS WRONGS.

MR. ABBAS TYABJI AT RANGOON.

(From our own Correspondent.)
RANGOON, Dec. 2.

A mammoth meeting of the citizens of Rangoon was held on Sunday last at 3-30 p.m. Thousands of people collected there to hear Swami Shraddhanand and Mr. Abbas S. Tyabji on the great question of Non-Cooperation. Though it was still hot yet no less than 25,000 citizens of different sects and beliefs mustered strong to hear the leaders from India.

Mr. Abbas S. Tyabji, after saying a few words in Urdu, addressed the assembly in English. He said the question that arises now is what we should do to obtain some remedy for the four wrongs that we all feel we are suffering from. These four wrongs are:—(1) Failure of justice in the matter of the Punjab atrocities; (2) breaking of the promises made relating to the preservation of the Turkish Government; (3) the use of the Indian army against the countries with whom we have no quarrel—thereby producing enmity between us and almost all other Asiatic countries; (4) the policy of the British Government which has not only enabled our bureaucratic Government to humiliate us in India, but has led to our utter humiliation throughout Asia and Africa. Those of us who felt these wrongs deeply tried hard to find some way of obtaining redress from our rulers. How utterly we have failed you all know. The Punjab deabte in the House of Lords and the final orders passed by H. E. the Viceroy speak for themselves.

KHILAFAT QUESTION.

As to the Khilafat question you have only to bear in mind the words of Mr. Lloyd George, Prime Minister, who declared the Turkish Treaty was a satisfactory one, notwithstanding the fact that he broke all the promises that he had made in England's hour of trial in 1918.

The question relating to our army is that we desire the withdrawal of our Indian troops from all those countries which have nothing to do with the Government of India. What has Mesopotamia, what have Persia, Egypt, East Africa, got to do with the Government of India? Our armies are there for the benefit of Great Britain. The Indian army was raised for the defence of India and we voluntarily allowed its use for the defence of the Empire in the hour of its need. Our soldiers conquered the countries, retention of which will involve very large responsibilities hereafter. It is clear that our army is now being employed for the purposes other than those which we intended in that it is employed for the benefit of the British Capitalists.

PUNJAB ATROCITIES.

Shooting in the Punjab was not the worst of the atrocities perpetrated there. Even when we have our ministers, occasions will probably arise for firing on the crowd. But this will never be done for the mere purpose of humiliating our people. It is only those who live in the Punjab and those who went there afterwards to make enquiries about the doings there that can realise the humiliations, our people were made to suffer. I am not going to tell you all that happened there. Suffice it to say that men were made to undergo such punishments as having to crawl on their bellies and being flogged after having been stripped of their clothing. Our Government knew the men who perpetrated these atrocities; but had not the courage to punish them. The Indian officials, it now appears, have been seriously punished, but greater offenders who happen to be the Englishmen have been let off with nothing severer than mild censures.

These are our four grievances at present and how are we going to get them remedied that is the question you have to consider. None of the Moderate leaders has made any proposals to attain that object. Our friend, Sir Chimanlal Setalvad, can suggest nothing better than our going to the Councils and advising the Government to do something to rectify these wrongs. We know that the Indian ministers are now to be appointed. But what will they be able to effect without money? Already the Government has been compelled to say that it has no money available to fulfil its promises to the Patna University. It will always be the same. Already something like 70 crores have been lost to India in Exchange and Reverse Councils and now the Army expenditure which at one time was some sixteen to seventeen millions is budgetted at some forty-five millions. Where then is money for Indian ministers such, e.g., as the Minister of Education to come from? There is money in India, but insufficient. From where is the Minister of Education for the improvement of his department to get money. You know that at present for a population of 250 millions we are spending only four million pounds on education and this too after nearly a hundred years from time when the first they started educating us. At this rate it will take another hundred years to bring us to the same level as Japan in matters educational. In the last budget, the Government was able to increase the grant by half a million pounds; whereas the increase in the sum allotted to the army exceeded by some 12 millions the grant for the previous year. In these circumstances the appointment of a Indian Minister of Education will be a mere farce. He will, in no way, be able to promote our education faster than hitherto. He will, in short, be a mere figure-head.

THE ONLY METHOD.

Proceeding further, the speaker said so far all the methods adopted by us to obtain redress have failed and the only thing now remains to be done is to educate our people as to enable them to realise that they are after all a nation. They have human rights, and privileges which if not granted they can demand with moral force which the authorities cannot resist. We want to educate our young boys so that they should realise that India is not a country of slaves, that it is not a nation of liers and cowards as is being now taught to them in their schools through their history books. Such things being put in the winds of our boys will never teach them to be independent. They will always consider that their rulers are wise and their countrymen foolish. It is our misfortune that we have failed to realise that we are becoming more and more slavish every day. Let us educate our young men by help of the national schools to realise these things, to understand that they are in no way inferior to their European brothers and this can only be done by removing them from the Government schools and colleges.

ROYAL VISITS.

THEIR "USE" AND ABUSE.

BY C. F. ANDREWS.

With the visit of the Duke of Connaught to this country still pending, it is of the greatest importance for the people of India clearly to understand how these royal visits are often unscrupulously used by Government for political purposes. The idea is, first of all, sedulously propagated that the Royal Family are above politics,—that they are strictly neutral in their political attitude. Then, afterwards, the news is placarded on all sides that a great political success has been obtained. The late King Edward VII was rightly called the greatest diplomatist in the British Empire. The present Prince of Wales has now earned the title of "Our Greatest Ambassador."

If it were merely the spreading of messages of goodwill and peace to all nations that could be accomplished by such diplomatic and ambassadorial tours, the world might be all the better for them. But the danger always looks at the back, that some distinctly political objects may be aimed at behind the scenes; that evil systems, which have power and authority behind them, may receive from them an added power and an added authority for oppression of the poor and subjection of the weak. Even to-day, the greater proportion of Europeans on the continent of Europe believe, that the visits of King Edward were used by English politicians for the encirclement of Germany by a ring of hostile powers. Whether that opinion is right or wrong, need not be discussed here. In only wish to point out how, from a bitter past experience, these royal visits are surely feared in Europe. Europe has had her hard lesson to learn; and the proverb is true,—"Once bit, twice shy."

I wish now to tell the story of what happened, behind the scenes, in the Prince of Wales's recent visit to Fiji. The facts have just come to light, and they are most instructive.

RACIAL HATRED.

The Indian community were suffering, at the time, from a most painful injustice. They had been charged with the offence of stirring up racial hatred against the Europeans and breaking out into 'open rebellion'; yet the truth was simply this, that the Indian labourers were nearly starving and had struck work in order to obtain from the plutocratic Colonial Sugar Refining Company a more just and equitable share of the enormous profits from sugar. The Colonial Sugar Refining Company had reaped these successive profits out of Indian labour, year after year, during the War. After the war also these had gone on still further increasing Yet the Company continually refused to share what they had gained with the Indian labourers.

When I was in Fiji in 1917, there was an attempted suicide of an Indian. In open Court the Indian declared, that he could not bear to see his young children crying for bread and to have nothing to give them to eat. The judge dismissed him with warning. That was cold comfort indeed! And what can be said strong enough about the oppression of the poor by this wealthy Sugar Company with its many crores of capital? Yet it held out to the last, against a mere rise in wages of 31 per day when I tried to negotiate this for the Indian labourers in the Colony in 1917.

OPEN REBELLION.

The Indian community, when freed at last from indenture, demanded a decent living wage—the wage of a free man and a free woman. I know for certain, that the C. S. R. Company could easily have afforded to give this out of its surplus profits. But it would not budge from its hard and fast position; and when at last the strike began, the news was everywhere spread abroad, that the Indians were in 'open rebellion' and were proposing to massacre the Europeans. Troops with machine guns, were hurried in a warship of the New Zealand Navy, from Auckland, and the Indian labourers were terrorised back into their work, without getting their rise in wages.

Soon after these troubles, the Indian Community wished to present an address to the Prince of Wales who came to Fiji. They asked permission from the Governor to state their position in the following terms:—

"We do not think it proper to pain your Royal Highness by describing our secular difficulties and grievances, which will not remain hidden to Your Royal Highness. One thing, however, we are compelled to bring to your notice. It is the fact, that we have been misrepresented to the effect that our recent agitation for better rights and economical improvement was based on racial feelings. This has wounded our hearts. This surmise, on the part of the authorities, is not only without any foundation, but is a great slur and an irreparable stain on our character, which should removed at once."

There were the proposed words. But the Governor cut them out of the address al together, and substituted others, which, while seemingly a mere abbreviation, were actually a perversion of the meaning. The Indians wished to say that the accusations of racial hatred, levelled against themselves, were unjust and unbearable. What they were made to say was, that there was no racial feeling on the part of any one at all,—either European or Indian. Now this was the opposite of the truth; because the European racial feeling had been excessive. I wish my readers to notice how subtly and cleverly this was done. The Governor of Fiji struck out the words of the address of welcome, which I have stated above, and substituted the following:—

"We do not think it proper to refer to political matters. It is inevitable, however, that your Royal Highness should have heard of the recent Indian troubles in Fiji, and we desire to assure you, that they were due solely to economic causes and not to any racial feeling."

A WEAKNESS.

The Indian Community protested against this perversion of their own meaning. But the Governor of Fiji insisted, and the Indians weakly gave way. The result was that the Prince of Wales was prompted to pick out those very words declaring that there was no racial feeling, which would camouflage the whole matter. They were telegraphed all over the world by Reuter. We received them here in India, London, and New York, and Capetown and Tokio, and Melbourne received them also. The Prince stated, that "he was glad to hear that the recent Indian troubles had not been due to any racial feelings." Thus the impression was spread abroad, that the Europeans were very good friends of the Indians and were living in social friendliness with them. The truth all the while was this, that the Europeans as I have said, had brought troops from New Zealand and, by sheer military power crushed Indians back into accepting the harshest terms of settlement. They had even pased racial laws against the Indians, marking them out from all other races in Fiji.

This incident in Fiji, affected the honour of a few thousands of Indians in that colony. The Duke of Connaught's visit will affect the honour of nearly thirty-two crores in India itself. Let us take warning from this weak surrender of our poorer Indian brethren in Fiji. We cannot blame them for that surrender; for their manhood has been crushed by servile labour.

But let us not weakly surrender ourselves, or put trust in Governments, which can use such weapons of compulsion as these. The only course, which is dignified and self-respecting, during the coming Royal visit of the Duke of Connaught, is to refrain altogether from offering addresses of welcome. Such a Royal visit at this crisis is not welcome to us. It cannot possible be welcome. Silence therefore is golden.—"Young India."

Replying in the House of Commons to Sir W. Joynson-Hicks, Mr. Montagu emphasised that the operations against the Mahsuds and the Wazirs has been a complete success. He hoped that the construction of the Khyber railway, reorganisation, of the Frontier Militias, redistribution of regular troops and other measures to secure more stable conditions on the frontier would eventually result in a reduction if not an entire prevention of the raids.

POSTAL MUDDLE

STILL MORE GLOOMY FUTURE FEARED.

PUBLIC IN DESPAIR.

The series of public complaints published in the Press do not seem to have been able to awake the Postal Authorities have not as yet moved an inch to mend the things or to reconcile the skilled and regular men. A visit to the General Post Office and the branch offices would really shock one to see how money-orders and registered and unregistered articles and letters have been heaped for weeks together. Hundeds of people wait and wait for hours together near the money-order delivery counter and the registration counter, but there is no body to enquire what they want. All the too few clerks who are to be seen indifferent counters, are tirelessly busy attending to the European callers:—evidently because they do not think that 'natives' also deserve to be attended to, by them. The business-man of the city is really in a great critical plight now. He does not receive his post at his place and if he goes to the post office for it, there is nobody to listen to him!

The plight of the students who flock to this city from the moffusil, is no better.

From all the circumstances, it appears that a still more gloomy future is awaiting. Portents?

SIXTY DAYS FOR A FEW HUNDRED YARDS.

The Managing Agents of the Hindusthan Tanneries have sent us the following copy of a letter addressed to the Presidency Post Master for Publication. The letter speaks for itself

The Presidency Post Master,
Bombay.

Sir,

We here with enclose for your information copy of a letter addressed to us by one of our Directors on the 30th September last but unfortunately delivered to us on the 28th ulto. at our tanneries at Dharavi, Mahim, instead of at our office in Fort, under your very efficient present day postal arrangement. You will be able to see from the above enclosure that the communication was the most important one. The envelope which also is herewith enclosed bears our address in clear legible writing; still it has taken full 60 days to travel to us from Apollo Street to Esplanade Road—a distance of about hundred yards—and caused us, we might be permitted to say, not a little annoyance and unpleasantness.

We are at a loss to understand why your new efficient postal "Experts" should have struck off the word "Fort" and substituted "Dharavi" instead on the envelope and directed the same there—a place only about 7 miles from G. P. O. and should have taken the abnormally "short" period of two months to deliver there.

We are, Sir,
Yours faithfully,

ABOUT MONEY PAID TO EX-KAISER BY GERMANY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, Dec. 1.
Recd. 1-35 a.m., Dec. 4.

At the question time in the House of Commons Mr. Bonar Law said he understood that fifty million marks had been paid to the ex-Kaiser from Germany since January, 1st, 1919. Reparations Commission was paying attention to the matter. It would not be very easy to recover money.

Mr. George Lambert asked:—Have the Allies taken precautions that the money shall not be used in order to bring back Hohenzollerns to Berlin? Mr. Bonar Law replied that the Allies were keeping their eyes on what was being done in that connection.

ANGLO RUSSIAN NEGOTIATIONS

DIFFERENCES ON FUNDAMENTAL ISSUES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, Dec. 1.
Recd. 1-35 a.m., Dec. 4.

The rift in the Anglo-Russian negotiations has been widened on fundamental issues particularly the conditions governing the exportation of gold to Britain, question of indebtedness and the clauses of the draft agreement dealing with propaganda within the Empire. It is stated that the Bolshevists are willing to recognise the trade debts but demur to an unqualified acceptance of liability for all the debts incurred by the previous Russian Governments and that the British Government is willing not to seize the exported gold but that the British creditors would doubtless attempt its seizure contending that they had a better title to it than the Bolshevists.

MR MONTAGU ON MESPOT

COST OF ADMINISTRATION.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)
LONDON, Dec. 1.
Recd. 0-45 a.m. Dec. 4.

In the course of his speech on "Mesopotamia" at the Constitutional Club, Mr. Montagu emphasised that army in Mesopotamia was employed largely on purely civilian duties.

The cost of administration in Mesopotamia was relatively high owing to a rise in prices and salaries, and because the administration was taking over the departments from military which could only slowly be brought into a line with the civil ideas of economy; and also because under army of occupation area of the country had been increased by twenty per cent.

Out of 11,820 persons employed in the civil posts 8,566 were drawn from the local population and 2,216 from the lower grades of Indian services.

Altogether about a thousand British were employed of whom in the higher grades under forty belonged to the Indian services and a majority of these were employed in the special service e.g. police and irrigation.

There were only five Indian Civil Servants and two or three from the Political Department of India.

TREATY OF VERSAILLES

ENFORCEMENT OF DISARMAMENT CLAUSES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, Dec. 1.
Recd. 1-35 a.m., Dec. 4.

GOVT. OF IRELAND BILL.

COUNCIL TO BE FORMED OF TWO SENATES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

A drastic change was made in the Government of Ireland Bill by the Lords in Committee by an adoption of two amendments moved by Lord Oranmore in the course of which Government was defeated. Lord Oranmore proposed creation of a Senate for the Southern Ireland for the purpose of safeguarding the Southern Unionists.

The Lord Chancellor opposed the amendment and said that no Second Chamber would be devised which would afford minority a real protection and simultaneously not destroy representative character of the First Chamber. He contended that the Council of Ireland provided by the Bill was far more qualified to solve the question.

The amendment was carried by 120 votes to 36.

A similar amendment providing the North of Ireland also with a Senate was carried without division.

The amendment that the Council of Ireladn be formed of two Senates was adopted by 48 votes to 34 despite the Lord Chancellor's opposition. Lord Chancellor stated that a large hole had been made in the Bill and he doubted whether the whole measure would survive such a blow.

The medicinal extracts—of which there are more than ten varieties—in Mother Seigel's Syrup act as a tonic to the organs of digestion—stomach, liver, and bowels—strengthening and stimulating them so that they again become capable of performing their vital functions easily and efficiently. on the 28th November and it is estimated that the damage amounts to three-quarters of a million sterling. This has had no effect on the price of cotton owing to the present depressed state of the consuming markets.

GREYS.

In Manchester Grey Shirtings there has been a further decline in prices of four to eight annas per piece. It is rumoured in the bazaar that a well-known firm has sold 39 inches 16 by 12 Red End Shirtings at Rs. 14, and in face of this sale the price of the local mill cloths will have to be reduced to Rs. 1-8 per lb. in the near future.

Local Mill Sheetings have been quoted at Rs. 1-10 to Rs. 1-11 and Longcloths at Rs. 1-12 to Rs. 1-13 per lb., but the demand is not quite satisfactory.

WHITES.

In White Goods there has been a further reduction in rates all round. Sassoons are reported to have sold Nainsooks from stock at low rates, which has had the effect of depressing the market for similar cloths. Tape bordered Nainsooks have been easier by six annas per piece. Mulls have been easier by two to four annas per price. Shirtings have shared the same fate.

SUGAR MARKET

Dec. 3.

We have to report a quiet but steady market during the week with further arrivals and lower advices from Java have made dealers nervous and they are selling their holdings at market rate. Calcutta market is reported quieter, while Karachi reports a steady market without any business doing. Java market keeps very unsettled with lower rates, viz., 25 gilders. America is also quiet. Home markets are nervous with no buyers. If the present state of affairs continue and prices go down further, we expect large failures in near future.

THE STUDENT PROBLEM.

(BY AN INDIAN.)

(Specially written for "The Chronicle.")

The struggle in Poona has begun as in Aligarh, Benares, Allahabad and in various other places. Those who have watched the struggle between the students and the authorities have come to the conclusion that the school and college authorities will fight bitterly for the old order. There have been some honourable exceptions, notably in Gujerat, the home of Mahatma Gandhi, where large institutions have freed themselves from the Departmental coils and informed the officials that they would no more acknowledge and submit to Government control, till the national wrongs are righted. But generally speaking, the school and college authorities have joined their forces with those of the bureaucracy and have fought N. C. O. Those who felt that the great national institutions of Aligarh and Benares would be the first to declare for independence and vindicate national honour and self-respect like Al Azhar have been disappointed. The idea that private institutions would side with the nation has not yet fructified. It would be better now for N. C. O. to leave these blessed institutions to themselves and appeal to the student world direct. Not that efforts should be entirely given up of converting aided and affiliated institutions into national ones. But our energies in the main should no longer be spent in arguing with the school and college authorities. Let us speak to the students who understand and sympathise with us. Let us explain to them why they should desert aided and affiliated institutions not to speak of Government institutions like plague infected houses. It would no doubt solve the problems before us effectively if Aligarh, Benares and other institutions which owe their existence mainly to private munificence, were to nationalise themselves. But as they have arragned their forces against the nation they belong to us no more.

Vindicate National Honour.

A crusade must be led against them as against Government schools and colleges. It is for the students to study the all-absorbing question of N. C. O. independently and decide as to their course of action. Those who have understood the real and living question at issue need not be told that the present movement of National Education is not merely for educational reform. Students are asked to leave aided and affiliated institutions not only because the education they receive is denationalising them and vitiating their minds! It does all that and therefore it must be abjured. But over and above all students should leave institutions under Departmental control in any form in order to vindicate national honour. Punjab stands wronged and not righted, there is the Khilafat the sport of scheming British diplomats and there is the question of Swarajya. Do these things mean anything to the students? Are they live and burning issues? Do the students feel that they are things worth dying for? Do they recognise what their duty to the motherland requires in this critical junctures Do they know what the Chinese students did when the Japanese octopus wanted to crush Shantung in its tentacles? What did Harrow and Eton do in the last war? Did they pause and ponder and weigh the pros and cons? Of course all these students lost something, but they gained something much higher in value. What do the young men in the country do all over the world, when there is a question of national existence, honour and self-respect? Boys of England threw down their books and rushed to the trenches; boys of China left their studies and joined in the struggle against Japan. Egypt did the same. Is India to fail? Are the students of India alone at the suggestion of the bureaucracy and bureaucratic tools to fail the country? We do not know our country. For us, the wise bureaucracy has chosen that the History of India should be taught from the British period. The nervous bureaucrat has denied to us not only our history, but his history also! Constitutional History of England was struck out from the B.A. course. Education has been denied to us in our mother-tongue. We cannot choose our text-books. It is because we are brought up in such a denationalising atmosphere that the questions enumerated above, have to be put to our young men. Otherwise the day after the Punjab, the schools and colleges of the country would have been deserted. We say again, it is not a question of education. Even if the education we receive in schools and colleges were a thousand times superior, even if it were to bring to us wealth and position, we would have asked the students to leave schools and colleges.

Lifless Education.

Our work is rendered much easier by the fact that the education the burcaucracy has served us hitherto is lifeless and worthless. Let us remember the cardinal point: it is for a political effect and a political cause, students have to leave schools and colleges. And because the effect may be instantaneous and effective, they should leave the condemned institutions immediately. It may be that they will suffer a little. But who told anybody that Swarajya can be had without any sufferings? And for the sake of the nation, are not the students willing to suspend their studies for a few days? Efforts are being made to start for the students national institutions all over the country and the leaders of Non-Cooperation may be trusted to see that no students will go without education of the right stamp and type. But students should not trust men like Prof. Jevons who asks them to stick to the present institutions till accommodation is ready for them elsewhere. Does Prof. Jevons understand why students are asked to leave the present institutions? If his credulous or crafty advice is followed, students will be the worst enemies of the country. They would go to strengthen the hands of the bureaucracy. If for Punjab, Khilafat and Swarajya, the nation has decided upon Non-Cooperation, students should instantly leave schools and colleges. They should not falter and allow themselves to be deceived by paid and unpaid missionaries of the bureaucracy. Once they leave the schools and colleges, a way will be found and will have to be found for them. If they are to stay in the present institutions till new ones are established, Non-Cooperation would lose all its meaning and force. Of a similar type is the objection raised by desperate friends of the old order. They say, the education may be bad; but is not something better than nothing? Are our boys to go without education? Men like Mr. R. P. Paranjpye who ought to know better say that their institutions are national because they are conducted by Indians and for the benefit of Indians. But is Mr. Paranjpye free to give any education he deems desirable in the national interests? Has he the choice of text-books? Does he remember that his resolution on text-books accepted by the local Council was thrown to the winds by the Imperial Government? Does he not know that because in his school the note-books of Mr. Pratt were not forced on the students, the school was condemned by Mr. Pratt? The Deccan Education Society has been humbled and humiliated in a hundred ways by the bureaucracy. If its honoured Principal, the coming Minister, has not realised his true position, it is because he has refused to think about it. It would be an insult to his intelligence to say that he does not know what a Government grant brings in its train. The Deccan Education Society was started to make education cheap; but was not the Society forced to raise its fees to 2/3 of Government fees, much against its will? Mr. Paranjpye's politics does not unfortunately differ much from that of the bureaucracy; that is why the iron hand of Government has not fallen upon him very frequently. But Government have not spared his institutions, whenever they willed. Mr. Paranjpye boasts that his institutions are receiving grant and will continue to receive it so long as it can be obtained consistently with his self-respect and independence. If he has no eyes to see, who can help? The D. E. Society has lost both long ago. Who forced the Society to suspend Mr. Bharm for two years and Mr. Deodhar and Mr. Patwardhan for a year? And for what? Who forced the Life-members to curtail their liberties and have a majority of new life-members in the Governing Body? It is idle, however, to argue with a gentleman who seems to be ignorant of the previous history of his own society and who thinks that his self-respect and independence have not suffered in any way by the Government grant. But is the question at issue one of self-respect of Mr. Paranjpye? Have we not all lost it? The bureaucracy has refused point-blank to right the wrongs of the Punjab in spite of all our protests including Mr. Paranjpye's.

The Country's Call.

We do not know how Mr. Paranjpye feels about the Khilafat but at any rate he must feel something for Swarajya. Will he tell us how many suggestions of the Moderates themselves have been accepted? How long does he mean to wait for it? If Mr. Paranjpye really means that his self-respect and independence have not been wounded by the recent doings of the bureaucracy and the British ministry, we shall have to revise our ideas about him. If Mr. Paranjpye has his eyes about him he will see that D. E. S. enjoys very little independence. But it is not a personal question. The D. E. S. may be fondled and cuddled. Its members may receive some privileges and even its primary school may receive a grant of a lakh and a quarter. But all these things must be thrown away as so many troubles when the nation stands dishonoured. If such be the state of Mr. Paranjpye no wonder that the New Poona College which has a bare four years' existence should also elect to stick to the old order. If the students are firm and united, the question will be solved, whatever Mr. Paranjpye may say. The choice lies entirely in the hands of students. We have talked to them plainly and openly and we trust they will make the right choice. The country calls upon them to leave schools and colleges instantly and immediately. They must obey the call. The question of national schools and colleges comes next and it is also being attended to by responsible leaders. The advice of Mr. Paranjpye should be rejected and the mandate of the Congress should be obeyed to the letter.

Opinions of the Day.

A Reward!

"The A. B. Patrika":—The general notion among Englishmen is that India was conquered by their sword and must be kept with the same sword. A more baseless fiction can hardly be invented. But for the Indians, both civil and military, England would not have been able to found her empire in India. Who can compute the number of Indians that have sacrificed life and property for the English cause? And how have they been treated in return? Have they been embraced as brethren and their services remembered gratefully? One answer will be found in the kind of treatment which Hira Singh received from the official to whom he went to pay his respects. And then, even in 1813, when the English had scarcely established themselves in this country, a whole regiment of Sepoys were massacred because they refused to go over to Rangoon, not from any cowardice or refractory spirit, but owing to religious scruples! And, needless it is to refer to the humanity staggering events of recent happening in the Punjab!

Col. Wedgwood's Statement.

The "Independent":—Then there is the constructive proposal to have a Conference. Let us say at once that we have an incurable suspicion about Conferences. When burning shameful things are crying to be wiped out, invitation to a Conference strikes us an invitation to condone the shame and the disgrace. Mahatma Gandhi and Mr. Lajpat Rai have both asked for a Conference and if it would do good, it should be held. But let us make it perfectly clear that a Conference would be possible only on the fulfilment of essential conditions. We have said already that we do not want any pledges not even from a Prince of Wales. But the conditions are these:—The pledges about Turkey should be fulfilled in accordance with the sentiments of Indian Muslims. In this matter, non-Muslim India will support the demand to the utmost. Before the Conference is called, the Indian soldiers who themselves, are made to do the dirty work of enslaving other people for the benefit of European oil-grabbers in Mesopotamia, Greek brigands in Thrace and Smyrna, and plutocratic nation-makers in Palestine should be recalled. We distrust the Government completely, and we cannot confer with people whom we distrust. As an earnest of their seriousness they must recall the Indian soldiers. Then the second condition is with reference to the Punjab. The question should be reopened and the demands of the Sub-Committee of the Congress should be conceded, both of punishment and of relief.

Ignore Duke's Visit.

"Young India":—His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught will be soon in our midst. It is a matter of great sorrow to me that I should have to advise a complete boycott of all public functions held in his honour. He is personally an amiable English gentleman. But in my humble opinion public interest demands that this official visit should be strictly ignored. His Royal Highness comes to sustain a corrupt system of Government, he comes to whitewash an irresponsible bureaucracy, he comes to make us forget the unforgettable he comes not to heal the wounds inflicted upon us but to mock us by flinging deceptive reforms at us. To welcome His Royal Highness is to associate with him in promoting our own dishonour—no Government official whether he be European or Indian has a right to claim any welcome or honour from us so long as the Government whose power he represents remains unrepentent and unresponsive to the one thing needful.

Two Pictures.

The "Servant":—India must be out to cure, to heal; the evils, the inequalities which trouble herself and her sister-nations must always haunt her and set her to a persistent quest for their remedy. Is present-day India then true to herself? Is she walking her traditional path? What is Council, University, Polling booth, Bourses and the markets laden with luxuries to her when she is herself in such dire distress as also the world for which since time immemorial she so keenly felt? Does the mimicry of the puerile activities of the infant world engaged in scramble for power befit her when her mission has always been, 'when pain and sorrow wring the brow, a ministering angel thou.' India has always borne the burden of the world. She has directly or indirectly sent her missionaries to the distant corners of the world to give rest to the heavy-laden. Now she is so poor as to be deemed unworthy to bear her own burden.

AN ADVICE.

BY M. K. GANDHI.

The following anonymous advice has been received by me:—

"Mahatma" "Listen to a woman's advice. Reject it but ponder over it well before you reject and pray to the All wise fervently for wisdom and inspiration. Concentration is strength, diversion is weakness. Limit your scope of Non-Cooperation to only three things, foreign goods, the police service and the army. Thereby you will remove all internal differences and strengthen our cause and speed Swaraj. Confine your efforts chiefly, not wholly, to the border tribes, the Sikhs, the Punjabis the Dogras and especially Gurkhas. Work through secret societies as history teaches and not by flourish of trumpets. Do not threaten but strike at the root and not at the branches. May God speed you and our cause to sucess.

Mrs. F."

The letter is undated. It is evidently not a woman's letter. It is too unwomanly to be a woman's letter. The women of India are infinitely braver than the letter would make them out to be. The writer writes about God but is possessed with the fear of the British bayonet and would therefore gladly make use of the Sikh and the Gurkha steel. He has ill-digested the gospel of Non-Cooperation. In his fearsomeness he does not see that to exchange British brute force for any other brute is no real remedy for the ills of India. And if it is the steel that is to decide the issue it must be not Sikh or Gurkha steel, it must be all India steel. That is the one supreme lesson that Europe teaches. If it is brute force that is to rule them the millions of India must learn the art of war or must for ever remain prostrate at the feet of him who wields the sword whether he is pardesi or Swadesi. The millions must remain dumb-driven cattle. Non-Cooperation is an attempt to awaken the masses to a sense of their dignity and power. This can only be done by enablinv them to realise that they need not fear brute force if they would but know the soul within.

The Dogras, the Sikhs, the Gurkhas and the other martial races of India we do want not for the purpose of giving battle to the British soldier but for the purpose of refraining from keeping the British soildier to subjugate us. We want our military classes to realise that they only perpetuate their own and our slavery by wielding the sword at the dictation of a British officer. And that time will come when the school the writer represents has become defunct and when the military classes have also understood the necessity of non-violence.

The writer makes me suspicious about himself when he asks us to concentrate our attention on foreign goods, the police and the army. He would thus secure internal unity by waiving all sacrifice .e. purification by the very classes who have hitheto led public opinion, whereas the whole battle of Non-Cooperation rages round these very classes. It may for the time being appear to have struck a discordant note but in fact it will achieve real unity after the process of purification is over.

The writer has moreover missed the grand result already achieved by the absolute openness of our battle. In my opinion, the public has never expressed itself so fearlessly and openly as at present. It has almost lost the fear of the highly artificial law of sedition. When the writer talks of secret societies, he seems to talk of a bygone age. You cannot raise this great nation to its full height by the unclean methods of secrecy. We must, by boldly carrying on our campaign in the light of the blazing sun of openness, disarm the secret and demoralising police department. Non-Cooperation is nothing if it does not strike at the root. And you strike at the root when you cease to water this deadly tree of the British Government by means of open and honourable Non-Cooperation. The writer takes the name of God in vain, when he advocates in the same breath the secret ways of Satan.
